

It's what you're expecting.

President Letter

Your Name: _____

If you would like one, the White House Greetings Office will send you a congratulatory card from the current President and First Lady of the United States after you have your baby. Many parents enjoy putting this card in their baby book. There is no fee for the card, however we will send basic information about you and your baby (names, gender, date of birth) to the White House Greetings Office so that they can send you the card.

Would you like us to request a card from the President and First Lady after you have your baby?

Yes      No